

THE ORANGEBURG NEWS.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1868.

While we reserve to ourselves the right of defining our own political position by means of our editorial columns, we will be pleased to publish contributions from our fellow-citizens upon the grave questions which now agitate the public mind, whether their opinions coincide with ours or not. A district newspaper, we consider, should be an index of the various shades of popular sentiment in the section of country in which it circulates. Our columns are open, therefore, for any communications properly written, accompanied by a responsible name, not personal in their character, nor absolutely injurious in their tendency.

READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

Hurrah for Reed!!!

Third Congressional District!!!

Our work on Tuesday was not in vain. Jacob P. Reed, candidate for Congress, is undoubtedly elected. Here are the figures:

Anderson, Dem. Majority,	2,750.
Newberry, " "	1,500.
Edgemoor, " "	1,026.
Edgemoor (no vote), " "	1,100.
Orangeburg, Rad. Majority,	1,050.
Richland, " "	1,000.

Had Edgemoor voted, the Democratic majority would have been still greater; but, by Radical manipulation, no managers were permitted, and her vote was lost, but still the day was won.

Verily, our candidate is no longer a REED shaken by the wind.

The Savannah Riot.

SAVANNAH, GA., November 3.—The negroes appeared in great numbers, when the police opened, and took entire possession. This continued until about 7 o'clock. Every white man who came to vote was clubbed away. Finally a fight commenced—the negroes were driven back and the whites then commenced to vote. In a few minutes, the negroes rallied and attacked the whites. A negro deliberately shot a pistol and shot a policeman in the stomach—mortally wounding him. The firing then became general in the crowd. The police came to preserve order, when the negroes fought them desperately. Finally the police used their pistols, when the negroes broke and ran. Five negroes were killed and several wounded. Four policemen were wounded—one mortally. A young lady residing in a house opposite the Court House was also shot by a ball which came in through the window, but not dangerously. Trouble is anticipated.

SAVANNAH, November 3—P. M.—Since the morning disturbance, all has been quiet. It is impossible to say who is ahead until the actual count.

At the Ogechee precinct, the negroes, 1,000 strong, armed with muskets, shot-guns and pistols, took possession of the polls and allowed no Democratic negroes to vote. The whites who were allowed to vote had to do it under guard.

SAVANNAH, GA., Nov. 4.—All quiet in the city to-day. One of the policemen shot by the negroes yesterday is dead, and another dying. The negroes on the Ogechee are reported arming and gathering in large numbers, with the design of entering the city, under the lead of Bradley. An armed patrol is on duty to-night in the city. The murder of young Law, last night, by negroes, causes deep feeling among the citizens.

Large bodies of negroes are assembling on the Ogechee and Louisville roads, to march into the city. Persons living on the former road have been compelled to come to the city for protection. Persons residing in the country, who attempted to go home, have been ordered back by the negroes in organized force. White men have gone outside the city to remain during the night and guard the approaches.

SAVANNAH, November 5.—The negroes disbanded last night, but are again assembling at the Ogechee plantation. They are said to be armed with United States muskets, evidently newly furnished. The excitement in the city continues, and the citizens are on the alert for any alarm. Hopes are entertained that no collision will occur, every precaution has been taken by the civil and military authorities to prevent it. Young Law, killed by the negroes on the night of the election, was buried to-day, and had a large funeral. Another policeman died this evening who was shot at the riot.

The Riot in Augusta.

AUGUSTA, November 3.—Up to 3 o'clock the election proceeded quietly, but a row then commenced between a white man and a negro, which resulted in the killing of Albert Ruffin, the county sheriff, and one negro. The excitement was intense, but through the influence of leading citizens and the co-operation of the military, both parties dispersed quietly and order was restored, each party accusing the other of being responsible for the difficulty. The city, at this hour, is very quiet, and there are no apprehensions of further trouble.

AUGUSTA, November 4.—All quiet here. The leading citizens are acting with the military to preserve the peace. The conduct of Major St. Ouge and his command is highly commended.

The question of Queen Victoria's abdication is again being cautiously agitated in England. This time, however, it is viewed from a financial standpoint, the entire policy of the English people being directed toward national retrenchment. In view of a late increase of alarming symptoms of the hereditary affliction of the Guelph family, to such an extent as to almost entirely unfit her for the discharge of State duties, it is now thought the incoming Parliament will be disposed to retire her with a handsome dowry, in order to get rid of the annual appropriation to her private purse of two and a half millions of dollars, to say nothing of other incidental expenses, consequent upon maintaining her separate establishment, which amounts to twice as much more. Nothing but the most honorable and chivalric motives have protracted this event to the present time, and it is now merely a question whether they shall still weigh against what the more sensible of English statesmen regard as the interests of the throne and people.

SOME GOOD IN KANSAS.—We are glad to know that Kansas is looking up, and judge from the following that there is a chance for "bleeding Kansas" yet:

"The women of Kansas, although unable to obtain a female suffrage, have one right which is worth more. In a recent number of the Lawrence Tribune, the following peculiar advertisement appears:

"TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: I hereby give notice that the sale of spirituous liquors to Homer Hays is contrary to my wishes, and that I shall prosecute, according to law, any person who disregards this notice.

"CATHARINE HAYS."

"By the laws of Kansas, it appears, women can prosecute any landlord or saloon keeper who sells liquor to their lords and masters."

ROLAN EXPEDITIONS.—From the ninth and tenth centuries to the nineteenth, from the discoveries of the Icelanders and Northmen, who were the first Arctic explorers, to those of Sir John Franklin, Dr. Kane and Dr. Hayes, the polar regions have had a fascinating interest for both the commercial and the scientific world. The dream of commerce that a Northwest passage would be found a practicable road to the Indies was long ago dispelled. But science still demands further and more complete explorations than any which have hitherto been made. The ocean cable announces that two scientific expeditions to the North Pole are now fitting out—one at Havre, under Lambert, and the other at Bremen, under Peterman, the celebrated Prussian savant, whose views of Arctic geography were corroborated by Dr. Kane's discoveries of a Polar Sea.

The Lancaster Ledger has been shown a letter from one of the Marylanders who recently visited that place on a tour of inspection, which stated that a company of fifty had already been formed for a trip South, and that they would leave Hagerstown about the 15th instant. And that some of the gentlemen who were here a couple of months ago, contemplated settling in Lancaster County.

The Alex. Petion bombarded Jeremie Hayti, on the 6th instant. Salnave's troops surround the town on the land side and an assault was in contemplation. The inhabitants of the town are out off from water, and the women are said to be in full revolt. The revolutionists are indignant at the United States for her assistance to Salnave in fitting out or repairing her gun-boats.

Mrs. William Duke, of Macon County, Alabama, hung herself last week, on account of discord with her husband. They were married last year, at the ages respectively of eighteen and sixteen. She suspended herself from one of the joists in the house, and when cut down, her little babe lay tranquilly sleeping in a cradle near her feet.

Affected young lady, seated in a rocking chair, reading the Bible, exclaimed: "Mother, here is a grammatical error in the Bible!" Mother, lowering her spectacles, and approaching the reader in a very scrutinizing attitude, says: "Kill it! kill it! It is the very thing that has been eating the leaves and book marks!"

The new peanut crop is coming into market. The yield is good, and the quality of the crop excellent. There is a large demand reported at Norfolk, Virginia, for the article from the North.

The bronze doors of Crawford for the Senate entrance to the National Capitol have arrived in Washington. They are pronounced artistically inferior to the House doors by Rogers, but are said to better cast.

The Over-Confident Boys.

Sometimes boys are self-confident. Indeed, girls are not always entirely free from that disagreeable proclivity. We have seen young persons of both sexes who were confident they knew much more than their parents, and were constantly making the most positive declarations with reference to things of which they were really ignorant.

One day one of the over-confident young fellows said: "I will not believe anything that I cannot understand."

"Nor will I," said another.

"Neither will I," chimed in a third.

"Young gentlemen," said an old man, whom these young fellows regarded as a dunce, who was sitting close by, "Do I understand you correctly that you will not believe anything that you do not understand?"

"I will not," said one, and so said each one of the trio.

"Well," said the stranger, "while riding in the country this morning, I saw several geese in a field eating grass; do you believe that?"

"Certainly," said the three great unbelievers.

"I also saw pigs eating grass; do you believe that?"

"Of course," said they.

"I also saw sheep and cows eating grass; do you believe that?"

"Of course," was again the ready answer of the three.

"Well, but the grass which they had formerly eaten had, by digestion, turned to feathers on the backs of the geese, to bristles on the backs of the swine, to wool on the backs of the sheep, and on the cows it had turned to hair; do you believe that, gentlemen?"

"Certainly," they replied.

"Yes, you believe it," he rejoined, "but do you understand it?"

They were confounded and silent, and evidently ashamed, as after having been so sensibly reproved, they might well be.—Christian Neighbor.

Report of the Charleston Cotton Market.

For the Week ending November 6.

Reported for the Orangeburg News by W. WALTON SMITH, COTTON FACTOR.

On Friday the 30th ult., our market opened with a good demand but at rather irregular prices, and during the day the demand improved, the market closing firm. The demand on Saturday was firm, but mostly for the lower grades, prices being full and firm. There was a moderate enquiry on Monday, and in some instances factors obtained better prices. On Tuesday the market was quiet, and the sales were made at easier prices. On Wednesday the market in the early part of the day was quiet, and prices down, but on receipt of cable news, the demand improved with stiffer prices. On Thursday there was a good demand with an advance of 1/4 c. Sales for the week, about 3600 bales. We quote:

OBITUARY.

DIED.—At her father's residence in the Fork of Edisto, on the 18th October, 1868, LAURA R. JENNINGS, daughter of H. H. and C. R. JENNINGS, aged 11 years.

Calmly she sank into the arms of death, with the memory of her good deeds hanging around her like a beautiful wreath of flowers, all redolent with a never fading perfume.

A kind and gentle disposition endeared her to all who knew her. Meekly we bow in submission and say "Thy will be done."

Parents, come not with voice of woe, Shed not a burning tear, Her spirit was too bright—aye more, Too pure to linger here.
